

our story

MedWorking has been in the medical job board industry for 12+ years with the success of RadWorking and CardioWorking focused on radiology and cardiology. In the late summer of 2009 MedWorking launched HospitalistWorking.com to answer the demand from current clients who sought a trusted job resource for the hospitalist market.

Our Focus

Unlike other medical staffing boards, HospitalistWorking focuses solely on job opportunities. Job-seekers turn to HospitalistWorking for FREE access to the most comprehensive list of hospitalist jobs nationwide. Employers and Recruiters trust HospitalistWorking for flexible posting options and candidate database access.

Market Exposure

To begin its launch HospitalistWorking will be aggressively marketing by means of targeted email, direct mail, print ad, and search engine advertising initiatives. MedWorking's other sites rank in the top 3 spots on Google in organic searches for "radiology jobs" and "cardiology jobs." We are confident that after some time aging the site HospitalistWorking will gain equal credibility and search engine ranking.

Active Candidates

HospitalistWorking allows candidates unlimited access and application to jobs without requiring registration. This means your jobs get more views than sites with registration road blocks. Active candidates who choose to post their profile are searchable with access to HospitalistWorking's candidate database, included with every posting. Active candidates are those who have profiles posted or updated within 120 days.

Active Jobs

Jobs posted on HospitalistWorking by employers and agencies stay active for 60 days. After the 60 day term the jobs will expire unless renewed or updated by the posting company. This gives candidates a reliable resource of current jobs without the fear of finding jobs that are no longer available.
